

Stephen Leung

Stephen Leung is a healthcare territory and training manager for Contec Professional and has been developing people, business, and new products with the Spartanburg, South Carolina-based company since 2004. Prior to joining Contec, Leung worked for 15 years at DuPont in a number of different roles ranging from technical services and new product development to supply chain management and leading global CRM and information technology projects. A Certified Bio-Forensic Restoration Specialist (CBFRS), Stephen graduated from Texas A&M University's Dwight Look College of Engineering and was trained as a Six Sigma Black Belt.